

SPRING ORGANIZING IS CATCHING ON!

Organizing and spring cleaning go hand in hand. The weather is getting warmer and people are opening up their windows for fresh air and the days are getting longer. It is at this time when people say “I should get my house and paperwork under control before the kids are out of school for the summer”.

Yes, this is the perfect time to get organized! The kids would love to have easy access to their bikes and outside toys in the garage. I am sure the basement could use an organizing makeover after the long winter we just had.

Take a look at the items and ask yourself “Did I use this item in the past 2 years?” or “Will I EVER use it?” You have to be honest with yourself. I always tell my clients “It is OK to let it GO.” Some people just have to hear that and by saying this to my clients, I give them permission to let it go and they feel SO much better!

Start creating a donation pile and a pile to throw away items that are in bad shape or broken. In many towns in the spring, townships have a special garbage pickup date for large or hard to throw away items. Almost anything can be put on the curb for the garbage, even the kitchen sink!

April 22nd is Earth Day and what a great way to help preserve the earth by getting rid of your used items properly and de-cluttering your home! So let’s start spring on a great note and start spring organizing!

FROM THE DESK OF ELIZABETH FUCHS

I know this past winter was tough, but we are in the home stretch and spring is here! Spring time is for new beginnings and flowers are in bloom - so is Organized To Perfection.

Our company now offers gift certificates in any denominations. The certificates can be used for residential and business organizing, paper management and filing system maintenance. This is a great gift for birthdays, anniversary's, housewarming gifts or employee incentives.

We would like to remind our clients of our referral discount program. If a client of ours refers our services to someone and we work with the client, our referring client receives a 20% discount on our next organizing appointment.

It is always a pleasure to work with my clients to bring peace and organization to their homes or offices. Enjoy the warmer weather and the sweet smell of spring!
